AMERICA II IS SAFE

Located in the Wilds of Canada After Traveling 13000 Miles.

After a search of one week Allan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the aeronauts of the Balloon American II, have been located in the Canadian wilds. They traveled approximately 13500 miles and came to earth in Chicoutimi, Quebec, Wednesday, October 19th. They were not heard from until Thursday, when telegrams sent from St. Augustine, Quebec reached New York. Indications are that they have broken the world's record for sustained flight in a balloon.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Quite a number of signers have been secured as members of the Democratic Club, organized here last week. The club is gotten up for united work and also for the effect the large number of Democratic signers will have on the voting population.

NEXT ATTRACTION AT AUDITORIUM

The Boston Sextette Club, one of the strongest attractions yet, will appear at the School Auditorium the night of November 1st as one of the big offerings of the Radcliffe Entertainment Bureau. This club is one of the most noted organizations of its kind in the country and if you fail to see it you will miss the treat of a life time. Tickets on sale at Mann Drug Co., or at Auditorium night of show.

Quiet times, these, to be so near an election. Wonder if "General Apathy" has got hold of the people.

PUSH FORWARD TO GREATER VICTORIES

5,000 Extra Votes Tomorrow—Win the Special Prize—The Handsome Hat.

RESULTS VERY GRATIFYING

Every contestant made good use of our offer last week, and we appreciate very much the manner in which each went to work. Then, too it demonstrates the fact that the people of High Point and surrounding country know a good thing when they see it: The Review, the peoples paper, is moving steadily forward to greater victories. To show our appreciation of your good work of last Saturday and to make it easier for you to win the millinery prize given by Miss Venetia Smith, we have made you the following proposition:

For every $5.00 you bring in on subscriptions up to 10 o'clock Saturday night, October 29th, we will give you 5000 extra votes. These extra votes will count on the hat and all other prizes as well. We are expecting great results from this offer, and judging from the past, we feel sure that the friends of each contestant will see that their favorite goes bounding rapidly to the front.

Standing of Contestants in The Review Popularity Contest on October 21st at 5:00 P. M.

We call the attention of the public to the close rivalry already existing in this race for popularity.

While Miss Rochelle holds first place, Miss Mary Denson is making a close chase and holds second place; she is the kind of worker that "saws wood and says nothing." She "gets there just the same." Miss Jaunita Hammer has made a good record and holds third position. We are expecting to see her change her location soon.

We beg to call your notice to the record made by Miss Hattie Gray in less than one week's time. At the rate she has started in by the close of another week she will hold first place.

The friends of these young ladies are coming to their rescue and are sending in votes directly to the office, to be entered to the credit of their favorite.

MAKES A DASH FOR LIBERTY

That is what Miss Hattie Gray has done in our big contest. She got a late start, but judging from the record she has made in less than a week, she is going to exceed the speed limit. All right, Miss Gray, we give you the right of way. Your pluck and energy is sure to gain reward.

Vote fast and often: the more of ten the better, and the greater will be your chance to secure the hat given by Miss Venetia Smith, to the young lady polling the greatest number of votes from October 24th to November 3rd, 5 p. m.

N. H. Silver is talking "Crawford Shoes" in his ad. on 8th page today. Other good things also at this store for your inspection. Read the ads of this firm each week.

DON'T FORGET THE $5.00

The above sum in gold will be paid to the one who nominates the winner of the first prize in The Review's big contest. Fill out nomination blank elsewhere and send in at once with the name of the one who you think will win the prize. Don't forget to date your guess.

PIEDMONT TRACTION COMPANY BUSY

C. O. Birney, of Boston, was a visitor this week. He is connected with the Piedmont Traction Co. in the proposed trolley line from Greenville to High Point. Mr. Birney gave out the information that the line would be built, passing through High Point, and that already negotiations are being made for the building of the cars. This gentleman believes that the proposed undertaking is assured and that it will be a big thing for this section of the country, which indeed it will.

NEGRO EDUCATOR HERE

Booker T. Washington, the foremost negro educator of the South, will speak here in the Pickett warehouse Saturday night. A large number of white people will hear him, no doubt, and special space will be reserved for them. Tickets can be secured at the drug stores.

DON'T TRUST APPEARANCES

Do not judge by appearances. The girl whose hat looks like a lamp shade may be the light of somebody's life.

CRIPPEN SENTENCED TO DIE

The sensational case of Dr. Hawley Crippen charge with the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, which has been of interest to the world more or less, came to an end in the London, England, court last Saturday. After a trial extending over five days, and thirty minutes deliberation, by the jury, he was found guilty of the murder of wife and was sentenced to be hung on Nov. 15th. There being such strong prejudice in England on convicting a man on purely circumstantial evidence, Crippen's sentence may be changed to life imprisonment.

N. C. COLLEGES LUCKY

The general education board, of which J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., and others are at the head, gives to Trinity College, Durham, $150,000; Meredith College, Raleigh, $50,000. Other large sums are given other Southern colleges. The gifts are conditional on the institutions raising certain amounts to secure same. Here's hoping that North Carolina will get use of the "tainted" coin.

If you want to vote you will have to register tomorrow, the last day of grace.

Messrs. D. H. and W. H. Gurley have purchased the Home Market and will conduct the business at the old stand.

Don't forget the Boston sextette which will appear at the Auditorium night of November 1st.

As a campaign speaker Mr. J. Ed. Kirkman is a success. We have heard many compliments passed on his speaking. Mr. Kirkman knows how to reach the voter and he means what he says, therefore the people trust him and will show their appreciation by a large vote on the eighth.

"Mary Ann" Butler Falls Down

At Least That is the Verdict of the Unbiased Who Heard His Speech Last Night—Seemed Cowed—Audience Badly Disappointed.

The much-talked off Marion Butler has come and gone and that he didn't make good in his speech last night at the Pickett warehouse is the consensus of opinion. The mighty "Mary Ann" was heralded far and wide and two-thirds of the audience went out through curiosity and upon the reputation he was supposed to have as a speaker. The audience was made up of at least two-thirds democrats. This could be seen by looking over the crowd, and the applause at no one time came from more than one fourth of the house.

Mr. Gurney Frazier, republican candidate for the senate, opened the speech-making. While he was talking "Mary Ann" sat serenely in one end of the building, surrounded by Mr. J. Elwood Cox, former aspirant for gubernatorial honors; W. P. Ragan, postmaster of High Point; A. A. Holton, assistant postmaster; and other republicans. Mr. Frazier's speech over, Mr. Butler was escorted to the platform and introduced by Mr. Cox as "Ex-Senator Marion Butler." The above named gentlemen, sat on the platform with the speaker with the exception of Assistant Postmaster A. A. Holton.

Butler began his talk by saying this was a peculiar campaign; claiming that the democrats were trying to appeal to the passion instead of to reasoning. He attempted to define the good and the bad and harped considerably on "truth." He seemed to think that "headquarters at Raleigh" had raised the cry, "Mary Ann, Bonds, Boodlers and Negro," from the mountains to the seashore. Speaking of the democratic platform he said it contained nothing (just exactly what the people thought of his speech), no one understood it and he praised the republican platform as the greatest thing ever written; that his party was a party of destruction and despair. He told of pulling the teeth out of Kitchin's anti-trust law and succeeded in eliciting a faint applause by the joke. Said he had great respect for the office of governor and at one time had for Kitchin but he found that the governor did not have any courage, that he was in the memorable mid-night caucus hollering with all his might against "Butler and negro," etc., etc. There was simply nothing to his speech and the people wondered what had come over him or whether he had been overated by some people. Anyhow Butler's speech fell flat here, decidedly so, even several republicans admitting it to the writer.

In the audience were a number of colored people and a few "rooters" who tried to make some noise. But withal it was a very tame affair and it is believed lost the party votes.

Butler seems to know how the people feel about him, at least how thousands of good North Carolinians regard him. He has a whipped expression and as one looks and reflects that a son of the Tar Heel state would turn traitor to the state that gave him birth, he feels still colder towards him, even though he may be a brainy, shrewd man, of the political wire-pulling, scheming variety. No doubt as a lobbyist he is a success; no doubt it pays him to be such a politician. Anyway Butler failed to make good — you only have to ask the audience last night to find out—eight out of every ten will agree in this assertion.

It is a well established fact that Miss Venetia Smith always does things well and the contestant that is plucky enough to land the largest number of votes will be well rewarded. It's a $5.00 hat or that amount credit on any hat in the house.

METHODISTS WILL BUILD COTTAGE

The Methodists of High Point have decided to build a cottage at the Children's Home in Winston-Salem. It is to cost not less than $5,000, the same to be known as "High Point Cottage."

A large portion of the money has been subscribed and it is understood that the members of the two churches here are contributing very liberally, as well as a number of public spirited citizens who are members of other churches.

The proposed building will be located at the entrance of the grounds and will contain the superintendent's office and reception hall and accommodate about 25 children. Dr. T. F. Marr, Rev. J. P. Rodgers and Superintendent Hayes have been in this city for the past few days working in the interest of the institution. Recently the singing class from the home visited this place and gave a concert at the Washington Street Methodist church. High Point Methodists are deeply interested in the future of the home for orphans, which has been evidenced by the step that has just been taken.

MR. THOMAS SPEAKS

Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, congressman from the 3rd district, spoke to an interested audience Wednesday night at the Pickett warehouse, making a very fine talk for his party.

SERVICES AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

Next Sunday will be observed as Reformation Sunday at the Lutheran church. The morning services will mark the 393rd anniversary of the Reformation. Interesting music will be a feature of the services.

We regret to note that a few contestants are prone to lag behind. Somehow you handle your work as though it were a nettle and you feared being stung. Read the following little verse and find out how to take hold.

"Tender hands stroke a nettle,
And it stings you for your pains;
Grasp it like a man of mettle
And it soft as silk remains."

Grasp this contest proposition with determination and reward is thine.

MAJOR STEDMAN HERE THE 4TH

Owing to the attraction at Auditorium the night of November 1st, (time Maj. Steadman was to speak) the date has been changed to Nov. 4th, and those desiring to hear the major speak will be governed accordingly.

AN OPEN LETTER

Mr. C. B. Mattocks,
High Point, N. C.

Dear Sir:
We take this opportunity of urging both our old and new dealers that if the linings in any garments made for you last season have not given satisfaction, the garments be returned to us. We will re-line free of charge. If on the other hand, any of our coat fronts have not held their shape, we ask you to return the coat and we will remedy same, if necessary.

A satisfied customer is the best advertisement you can have.

With best wishes for a "record-breaking" fall season, we remain
Very truly,
STRAUSS BROTHERS.
